"The team offer a great selection of activities/offers to cater for a wide range of people at the park. I love the Christmas market and hopefully this will get bigger and better as it continues. Well done for everything you do, particularly in such difficult times and can't wait for us all to be back again".

Go Green

We want to create a pleasant and sustainable environment where people, animals, plants and businesses can all thrive.

Our Allotment and Community Garden offers staff the chance to learn about sustainable gardening practices in a space designed to coexist with nature.

With numerous wildflower meadows, a protected conversation area and a stream – we're so much more than a normal office park.

With two full time landscapers based onsite, our ambitious rewilding programme and pollinator planting gives nature the front seat, while our active travel plan helps commuters make greener choices when traveling to the park.

Our sustainability working group have worked on a number of projects together, including rolling out Carbon Literacy Training Across Site.

Meanwhile our Q Learning programme has educated individuals on a wide array of environmental and social issues, including the sustainable development goals, neurodiversity in the workplace and recycling best practice.
